Tale from Industrial America

When the Machine Stopped A Cautious Century

BY MAX HUBBARD

In 1919, Harold Bunkell, a schoolboy from San Francisco, was in Industrial America:

A Study in Short-Sightedness